

PART 2: YOUR BELIEFS DETERMINE YOUR DESTINY

INTRODUCTION

The Harvest Principle says you will reap what you sow. This rule is always true without exception. The best predictor of your future is to ask, "What am I sowing now?" It's important to examine ourselves to see if there are any hidden beliefs planted in our lives that are sabotaging the future God wants for us.

BIBLE VERSES

Matthew 7:9-11; John 20:31; Matthew 7:24; Genesis 50:20; John 20:27-29

DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

1. Pastor Will taught that good intentions don't make up for wrong beliefs. Do you agree with this statement? Why or why not?
2. Your life will always move in the direction of your strongest beliefs. Think about the direction your life has been heading for the past 12 months. What beliefs do you have that may have driven your life that direction?
3. What circumstances from your past might cause you to struggle to believe that God is good and wants to give you good things?
4. What things do you know cognitively to be true about God that your thoughts, words, and actions seem to contradict?
5. How can you begin intentionally planting seeds (or more seeds) of right belief about God this week?
6. How can we help?

MOVING FORWARD

In order to plant a good harvest in 2020 and beyond we need to practice selective seed sowing today. Before you sow a belief into your life ask Jesus: Will this help me believe that God is good and wants to give good things? Will this help me believe the Bible enough to make decisions based on its guidance? Will this help me believe God can use everything that happens to me to benefit me or someone else?
