DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

1. Describe a season you've had (or maybe you're currently in) that you weren't satisfied with your life. What was unfulfilling? What did you feel was missing? What did you think would make life better?
2. Read Matthew 16:24-25. How does Jesus' teaching in these verses compare with what our culture today teaches us?
3. What does it mean to deny ourselves and take up your cross?
4. What personal desires, opinions, and preferences do you have a hard time denying yourself?
5. Pastor Will talked about the 80/20 principle and said that we rarely get 100 percent of what we want in life. Describe a time when you chased after the last 20 percent of what you didn't have, maybe even abandoning the 80 percent that you did have. Did that ultimately satisfy or fulfill you?
6. In the movie, Sister Encarnacio's message for Ignacio was that when you fight, don't just fight for yourself. Fight for something that matters. Fight for someone who needs your help. Fight for something that lasts. As you think about your time, energy, resources, and talents, what is really worth fighting for right now? How can you orient your life in such a way to fight for what really matters most?
